

TIE AND TRACK.

SANTA FE PEOPLE AND THE
THE BIG HOSPITAL.

What They Will Do if the Citizens
Will Donate Them Two and One-half Acres of Land—News and Notes from Various Points.

Dr. W. W. Ross has been appointed surgeon of the Santa Fe line in California, vice Dr. W. S. Tremaine. The appointment was made two months ago, but is just now made public. Dr. Ross has been in California 30 years and a citizen of Los Angeles 14 years. He assumes the duties of his office immediately.

He is authority for the statement that if the city or the citizens will donate two and a half acres of land to the Santa Fe they will build within a year a brick hospital to cost not less than $50,000. The road has been laying its wires for some time to get a hospital in the city, and offers of land outside of town have been made to them, but they want a place inside the city limits, and will build as soon as they get it. The Southern Pacific wants a place here also for its maimed and wounded, and one of the officials says that it is only a matter of time until they will build a big hospital. The injured employees of both lines are now treated at the Sisters' Hospital at $10 per week each, which the companies find rather expensive, though the men get better treatment there than most anywhere else in the State. A little stir on the part of the people is about all that is needed to get two extensive hospitals.

"SITTING TRACK."

The Santa Fe excursion train is sidetracked at the First-street depot with 130 passengers on board. The train arrived here yesterday afternoon at 4:15. A lay-over of several hours was had at Pasadena, and was spent by the teachers in driving about the little city viewing the sights. Few of the passengers left the train immediately upon its arrival here, but remained in their quarters until the evening shades closed down, when they came out to the entertainment at the Normal School.

BIG GUNS.

G. F. Goddard, third vice-president of the Santa Fe, and Dr. Rawson, chief surgeon, both from Chicago, and W. F. White, general traffic manager, located at Topeka, and H. B. Wilkins, general freight and passenger agent at San Diego, and J. D. McNeil, were here yesterday in a private car. They remained in the city out a short time, leaving about noon for San Diego, accompanied a short distance by Judge Bruns and William Dunn. Their visit has no special significance, except for a general inspection of the lines and to look over the new route from this city to San Diego.

NOTES.

The Pasadena people are kicking against the slow progress being made on the new Santa Fe depot there.

C. N. McLaughlin has resigned as Southern Pacific agent at San Diego, and will go to the northern portion of the State. James L. Manuel will succeed him.

The spur, three miles long, from Cucamonga to the Deleville quarries, was completed yesterday and is ready for the rolling stock.

A FEMALE FRAUD.

She Plays Jokes on the Ladies' Benevolent Society.

The good ladies of the Benevolent Society of this city are all torn up over the discovery that a woman on whom they have wasted a great deal of time and expended a large amount of sympathy is a fraud. About the last of June Mrs. Joslyn, superintendent of the Women's Exchange, received a very pathetic letter from a Mrs. Mary E. Stafford, at Tustin City, asking if she could not secure employment for her in this city. The letter dwelt at great length on her destitution, saying that she had been very sick, and had two little boys who were dependent on her. She said that she had been engaged in literary work, and was anxious to get to San Francisco, where she could again resume her labors. Mrs. Joslyn is a very sympathetic woman, and she at once commenced to search the city for a place for Mrs. Stafford. The woman had said that she was willing to do anything, but her two children were a great drawback, and Mrs. Joslyn finally got the managers of the Orphans' Home to take them in, in case Mrs. Stafford came to Los Angeles. She also got $50 subscribed, and a pass to San Francisco. In the meantime, she thought she had better write and send out something about Mrs. Stafford, before doing anything further. The answers to the letters of inquiry were anything but flattering to the woman. It was said that while she might be needy, she would not work, and her name was mentioned in connection with a certain married doctor of Tustin, who was said to be an entirely too intimate relations with her. On these letters, the ladies declined to have anything further to do with her, but she came to Los Angeles anyway about the 1st of July, and called at the Women's Exchange, but was given the cold shoulder, and was told to understand that her true character was known. Notwithstanding this, she stayed about a few days, and went about the city soliciting aid, using Mrs. Joslyn's name as reference, after which she dropped out of sight. Several days ago, it will be remembered that an item was published in the daily papers, saying that a lady, accompanied by two children, had been picked up at $43 at the Southern Pacific depot, and that she was left destitute. She gave her name as Mrs. Stanford of Santa Ana, and put up a story about the case came to the attention of Humane Officer Wright, and through him to the ladies of the Benevolent Society, and they determined to investigate it, thinking from the description that it was Mrs. Stafford. It was learned that she had gone to Pasadena, where Officer Wright went and brought her back. She was taken to the police station, where she was identified by Mrs. Joslyn and Mrs. Bath, although she positively denied that she was the woman, and attempted to face it out. In this she was not successful, and, after being given a sound lecture, she was discharged. Mrs. Stafford is a woman about 27 years of age, of rather good appearance, and a very smooth talker, and it is more than likely that she will try to work other towns in this vicinity on the "literary racket," and the ladies of the Benevolent Society wish to put all charitably-disposed persons on their guard against her.

THE German doctors have not covered themselves or their profession with glory in their acrimonious discussion over the case of the late Emperor. How is it that doctors exhibit so much less self-possession than lawyers in discussing cases in which they are interested?

THE President is said to be thinking of little else just now than his letter of acceptance. It is stated that a large part of the letter will be devoted to an attempt to show to the workmen that he is opposed to anything that will cut down wages. Such a herculean effort, during the heated term, will cost Grover many pounds of flesh.

THE United States of Colombia has concluded a convention with the Vatican by the terms of which the Roman Catholic clergy will have entire control of the Government schools and universities. Colombia has committed a grave mistake. There are other republics in which a tendency in the same direction demands eternal vigilance on the part of lovers of liberty.

THE eastern papers publish views of the Cincinnati Centennial Exposition, open from July 4th to October 27th, which show it to be a magnificent and imposing structure. The exposition is to celebrate the 100th anniversary of the settlement of the Ohio Valley. We believe this offers a much better chance for a Southern California exhibit than the Columbus enterprise, as it lasts much longer and is likely to be more largely attended.

A VERY successful and interesting reception was given yesterday evening by the Oro Fino Club to a number of Tippecanoe veterans. The reception was a success despite the selfish and malign efforts of one "Smoothy" to discourage and hold it back for his own selfish ends. The enthusiasm of the Tippecanoe campaign promises to be duplicated to a great extent this year. The ball is "a rolling on," and when it stops it will be found to have rolled up an overwhelming majority for Harrison and Morton, too.

Develop and Produce.
It is announced that some capitalists who were figuring upon establishing a watch factory in Los Angeles, which would have employed several thousand persons, but who were unable to obtain any encouragement in the shape of a suitable location and so forth, are now going to put up their works in Terre Haute. It is extremely discouraging to all who have the prosperity of Los Angeles at heart to see such opportunities as these allowed to slip from our grasp. Until last fall, when the speculative real-estate boom culminated, the excuse given for lack of general interest in solid enterprises was that every one was too much occupied with real-estate dealing to give a thought to anything further. As truthful chroniclers, we are forced to admit that there was more interest displayed in legitimate enterprises even during the height of the boom than there is at present. We are building a great many handsome business blocks and private dwellings, which is an excellent thing and a subject for general congratulation, in which THE TIMES heartily joins; but if we are to continue to grow at anything like our past rate of progress, we must have business to enable persons to pay the rents of these stores and dwellings. We must develop, to the utmost extent, our productive capacities—agricultural, horticultural, mineral and manufacturing. We must not send away a dollar for anything that can be produced here. This is the secret of healthy and permanent growth in any section. So far as we are at present from such a healthy condition of things that we not only send off thousands of dollars daily for what might be produced here, but for what is manufactured here, as many of our manufacturers can testify, and this frequently for the sake of an infinitesimal saving in cost.

Let us have a change in all this. Let us wake up and take a fresh start. Let our Board of Trade and our prominent citizens join hands and go to work with a will to develop our resources in every direction. Let each public-spirited citizen appoint himself a committee of one to further the interests of the city in such ways as may suggest themselves to him. The making of a magnificent metropolis is in our hands. Nature has done more than her share; let us not be half-hearted in doing ours.

Monopolies and Voters.
The only remaining independent paper in the Pennsylvania oil regions, the Daily Oil News, has succumbed to the inevitable and suspended publication. By independent, we do not mean as to politics, but as to its relations with the Standard Oil Company. In a long valedictory the News says:

"After a career of eight months and twelve days the Daily Oil News has gone to join the wrecks of independent newspapers, the discarded refuse of the triumphant progress of the Standard Oil Company toward complete mastery of the oil country. Its life has been one of unending hopeless struggle for the bare existence that was denied the paper that did not mould its views in strict conformity with the dictation of the most rapacious and unscrupulous monopoly that is permitted to curse a free country."

We trust that, ere many years have elapsed, a check may be placed on the growing insolence of these conscienceless and un-American aggregations of capital, which serve as an excuse for the existence in this free country, of other and equally un-American bodies, whose avowed object is the destruction of law, order, and society. That time will come just as soon as the respectable, law-abiding voters of the United States say the word. Whenever good citizens, irrespective of party, make up their minds to take an active part in the government of the country in which they live by turning out, every man of them, at the primaries and voting for delegates who will place none but worthy men on guard, then will the doom of both aggressive monopoly and destructive anarchy be sealed in these United States, and Freedom, renewing her youth, shall enter upon a second century of beneficent rule in the land which gave her birth.

LEVI P. MORTON is a man of wealth, yet he is one of the people, and his sympathies are with them. It was he who with large-hearted benevolence, eight years ago, sent out to starving Ireland the ship Constellation with food for the hungry poor. This benefaction cost him $50,000.

THE bandana, it appears, is not a new feature in politics. Its adoption by the Democracy as a campaign banner this year becomes very appropriate, when it is known that it was once waved in England on the side of free trade. Up to 1824 the importation of foreign silk manufactures had been totally prohibited in the United Kingdom, not by heavy import duties, but by penal enactments. "It was the despotism of monopoly, tempered only by the smuggler." In a debate in the House of Commons, Joseph Hume created great amusement by flourishing his silk bandana handkerchief, exclaiming: "Here is a foreign ware that is totally prohibited. Nearly every one of you has a similar illicit article in his pocket. So much for your prohibition!"

WARNER BROS., the well-known excursion managers, propose to place on exhibition in the Eastern States cars containing samples of our productions. In a circular which they have issued the firm very pertinently remarks: "Thus far we have paid our attention largely to the development of our cities, towns and real-estate investments, so much so that it has been to the detriment of that which is necessary to make us self-sustaining—the development of our farming lands. The scheme is, on its face, a good one, and the manner in which the firm in question has carried out previous advertising enterprises gives encouragement to believe that the work will be done in a business-like manner."

ALREADY the Democratic party has commenced the battle of the present Presidential campaign with the cudgel of misrepresentation. Fact and reason, the only legitimate weapons in a square and honest fight, they disdain. They do not care to keep before the people the fact that the present campaign is to be a battle of principles, which will be fought out, on the Republican side, on open ground. Political bushwhacking will be left to the party of "reform," and the prospect is that it will resort pretty generally to that method of warfare.

THE Republican party is to have the earnest support of the New York Independent, which four years ago was Mugwumpian in its tendencies. That paper doubtless voices the sentiment of independent generally when it says: "The Republican party again on solid ground. It has returned to its old traditions. It has given us a ticket which Christian men and men of conviction can heartily support. Those who left the party in 1884 can now return and vote for men as well as principles. There is no excuse for continued alienation. Let us close up our ranks and have an old-fashioned Republican victory in November."

THE world admits the far-seeing and statesmanlike sagacity of Bismarck. There is no wiser student of political economy than he, none who studies more carefully and weighs more judiciously the causes promotive of national prosperity. In view of this, the following utterance of the great German Chancellor is not without significance:

Because it is my deliberate judgment that the prosperity of America is mainly due to its system of protective laws, I urge that Germany has now reached that point where it is necessary to imitate the tariff system of the United States.

POOR Minnesota was rent with blizzards and frozen almost solid during the past winter. And now comes the grasshopper scourge, which threatens to overrun the State and destroy the harvest. No wonder the people of that region are so many of them turning longing eyes in the direction of California, where they can escape all of these evils. We shall see a tremendous influx from that section this fall.

AMUSEMENTS.

AT THE PAVILION.—Mullock's bright little three-act opera is always a favorite, and drew a good audience last night, especially as Mr. F. Bornemann was billed for the part of the chorier "Gen. Ollendorf." Mr. Bornemann has a fine baritone and great dramatic ability. His "Gen. Ollendorf" was excellent and by far the best ever given here. He is no novice, having been in the McCaul Opera Company in its tour through the eastern cities.

The rôle of the piquant and pettish would-be princess "Laura" is suited to Miss Manfred. Mr. Pyke makes a happy-go-lucky student, and Miss Hattie Moore, as "Bronislava," kept herself rather modestly in the background, proving no comparison with the never-to-be-forgotten charm of Miss Jennie Winston in a similar part.

Beggar Student again tonight, closing the engagement of the Pykes for the season.

GOLDENSON MUST HANG.—SACRAMENTO, July 13.—W. H. Jordan, who was employed by the mother of Alexander Goldenstone, condemned to death for the murder of Mamie Kelly, to make a last appeal for executive clemency, wrote and asked the Governor to commute the sentence. In a very lengthy letter to the attorney, the Governor very plainly and positively declared that he will not interfere, and that further appeals will be unnecessary and unavailing.

THE Industrial Party.—SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—At today's session of the convention of the Industrial party the nominations of E. A. Redstone for California for President, and John Calvin of Kansas for Vice-President, were ratified. On motion of Mr. Redstone, the proposed nomination of Gen. Vandever by the Industrial party in the Congressional Sixth District was endorsed. Stephen Maybell was nominated for Congress in the Fourth District.

EMPEROR OF NORFOLK'S INJURY.—CHICAGO, July 13.—It transpires that Emperor of Norfolk is not as badly injured as was thought yesterday. It was then supposed that he would not be seen on any track this year, and probably never again, but an examination makes the strain of a tendon an injury which can be cured in a short time. He will be taken to Baldwin's Indiana farm for rest, and will be seen again during the fall.

Escaped from Alcatraz.—SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—John L. Fisher, an army prisoner serving out a sentence for desertion on Alcatraz Island, escaped on Wednesday night. The Government offers a small reward for his recapture.

Collision Near National City.—SAN DIEGO, July 13.—Early this morning a special freight train, bound north from National City, collided with a yard engine. Three freight cars were considerably damaged, and the engine and its crew were injured.

Escaped Unnoticed.—SACRAMENTO, July 13.—Thomas Griffith, who, in an attempt to shoot his brother after a quarrel some days ago, shot and killed him, was yesterday taken to the State Prison, where he was discharged today, no complaint having been filed against him.

Fire at Marysville.—MARYSVILLE, July 13.—Fire broke out in the office of the Appeal this morning, and before the flames were subdued damage had been done to the extent of between $5000 and $8000.

Boulanger Fights and Gets Badly Wounded.

Floquet Receives Some Slight Gashes During the Duel.

The General's Wound Dangerous—Paris Greatly Excited.

The Serbian Crown Prince Taken from Queen Natalie and Returned to His Father—Details of the Terrible Colliery Accident in Southern Africa.

By Telegram to the Times.

PARIS, July 12.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] As was expected, the insult offered by Boulanger to Floquet in the Chamber of Deputies last evening, resulted in a duel. The two gentlemen, attended by their seconds, met at 10 o'clock this morning. Swords were used, and both contestants were wounded. The duel occurred on Count Dillon's estate, at Neuilly sur Seine, about distance from the city. Boulanger was wounded in the arm and neck. Floquet's hand was scratched by Boulanger's sword. Further than this he was not touched. Floquet's colleagues in the Ministry were waiting at his house for news of the duel, and were overjoyed to see the Prime Minister return safe. He was given an ovation. A small band of Boulanger's followers were in front of his house when he reached home.

Later details of the duel are to the following effect: At the second encounter Boulanger was slightly wounded and Floquet received a cut on the right hand. After resting, the men renewed fighting for the third time. Boulanger made a lunge at Floquet's left breast, but only slightly touched the mark. Boulanger then received a wound in the throat, which put an end to the encounter. The wound is a severe one, and on account of hemorrhage the doctors are unable to decide whether it is likely to prove serious. The duel was fiercely fought. Boulanger tried hard to kill Floquet, and threw himself upon him again and again. When Floquet received a wound in the hand and it began to bleed, the seconds proposed that the fight be discontinued, but both combatants refused to stop. Floquet received scratches on his hand, chest and foot.

THE physician who is attending Boulanger issued a bulletin regarding his condition. It says there is a deep wound in the right side of the General's neck and that it causes marked difficulty in his respiration. At present the doctor is unable to give an opinion as to what turn the case may take. At 6 o'clock this evening there was a marked improvement in Gen. Boulanger's condition. The doctors, however, still declined to make a prognosis. Several journals assert that Floquet's sword penetrated Gen. Boulanger's neck six centimeters at a point between the jugular vein and carotid artery.

MIXED.—Partly owing to the duel and partly because it is the eve of a fête, the streets at this hour are crowded, especially in front of the Courcier office. The merits of the duel between Boulanger and Floquet are excitedly discussed, and shouts for and against the General fill the air. Maque, in the absence of Boulanger, presided at a banquet on Avenue Amélie last evening. He announced that the General's condition was as favorable as possible.

The Sole says that the condition of Boulanger is serious; that a high fever prevails, and that the patient's respiration is rapid and sometimes very difficult. The doctors are unable to form an opinion as to the General's prospects for recovery. No bulletin has been issued since 10 o'clock this afternoon.

The Republican journals, in commenting on the discussion in the Chamber of Deputies last night, between Floquet and Gen. Boulanger, say that Gen. Boulanger has entered upon a plebeian campaign, and that the struggle between a republic and dictatorship has begun. Universal suffrage, they say, will do justice to Caesarism.

The Lanterne gives notice that it definitely severs all connection with Boulanger. The conservative organs continue to quote as excitedly discussed, and shouts for and against the General fill the air. Maque, in the absence of Boulanger, presided at a banquet on Avenue Amélie last evening. He announced that the General's condition was as favorable as possible.

MAID WITH AMBITION.—LONDON, July 13.—The Paris correspondent of the Times says it is the common belief that Boulanger and his followers, owing to the daily decay of their prestige, dream of civil war, and that they intended to make an effort to realize their criminal hopes by provoking street demonstrations for and against him.

AN UNHAPPY QUEEN.

Natalie's Son Taken from Her by German Police.

WIESBADEN, July 13.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] Natalie is sorely pressed by her enemies, and so far has been unable to get help from Russia in her suit for protection, the Russian Consul General at Frankfurt not having been answered.

BERLIN, July 13.—The German police ordered Queen Natalie of Serbia to leave Germany within 24 hours. They also informed her that before departing she must surrender her boy, Prince Alexander, to Mr. Proties, who will take him back to Belgrade. The police will afterward escort the Queen to the railway station at Wiesbaden and place her on the train bound for Vienna. If the Queen attempts to resist these orders, force will be used in carrying them out. Her Majesty is still determined. Her villa is surrounded by police. The statement that the young Prince passed through Vienna yesterday on his way to Belgrade was incorrect.

WIESBADEN, July 13.—An officer, attended by 20 policemen, entered Queen Natalie's villa at 10 o'clock this morning, and shortly afterward appeared with young Prince Alexander, the Serbian crown prince, the lady of honor of the Queen's suite. The two were bundled into a closed carriage and driven to the railway station, where the Prince was handed over to Proties, Chief of the Serbian Police, who placed him in the train. In a few minutes Proties and his charge were on their way to Belgrade. The journey will be made without a break.

from the police that she must part with her son, she telegraphed to King Milan imploring him to allow the boy to remain with her another month. The King, however, was incensed at the abrupt manner with which the Queen had refused his conciliatory proposal of mediation, and telegraphed back to the Crown Prince's tutor that the boy must not remain with the Queen a day later. The Queen had planned to fly with the boy, and with this intention had ordered a special train. She failed to state her destination, and the authorities refused to give her the train.

MANY MINERS KILLED.
LONDON, July 13.—A dispatch from Cape Town says: Debeers' mine, in Kimberly, the scene of the fire Wednesday night, has been explored by a party of searchers. Twenty-nine bodies were found, and 200 natives found to have been burned to death. Cause of the fire unknown.
The cause of the terrible calamity was as follows: The shafts were being changed a wire broke, and the shaft rushed down the shaft with frightful rapidity. The oil lamps were broken and the blazing fire kindled the wooden casing of the shaft. The flames in great volume shot up, completely preventing egress. The mine was soon filled with smoke, and the lights carried by the miners were rendered useless. The panic-stricken natives and whites, in their efforts to escape, became massed together in the galleries, and were suffocated to death. The rescuers, who subsequently explored the mine, were compelled to use dynamite to clean passages of the corpses. It is believed that 300 lives were lost.

SURE OF SUCCESS.

Chairman Estee Back from the East,

And Enthusiastic Over the Result of the Convention.

He Says Harrison Will Carry Indiana by 15,000 Majority.

The Entire East Roused to the Free-trade Peril That Hangs Over the Country—The Issue Clearly Understood, and Republican Success Sure.

By Telegram to the Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—[Special.] Hon. M. M. Estee, California's "Modern Cincinnati," and chairman of the late Republican National Convention, arrived from the East this afternoon. While unmistakably fatigued by his trip, he was full of enthusiasm over the political situation, which he regards as most favorable to the success of the Republican party. "We shall win without doubt," said he. "In 50 years the Republicans have not had such promise of victory."

"How did you find the sentiment in the East?"
"Everywhere strong for protection."
"Are the Republicans of the East united on the questions of the campaign?"
"Never in 18 years has the party been more united. While in New York I was informed by the most far-seeing and thoughtful men that the unity in the Republican party was never more assuring or complete, and under such conditions they expect to carry the State."
"There is no dissatisfaction among the friends of Blaine?"
"On the contrary, nobody could be more enthusiastic over the nomination of Gen. Harrison than Blaine's best friends."
Of the prominent part which he took in the National Convention himself, Mr. Estee modestly declined to speak. Of Gen. Harrison he spoke with enthusiasm. "I first visited the General as a private citizen. Afterward I called on him officially, and I can say that he is a splendid character—a grand example of the best type of American manhood."

When asked about the Chinese question, Mr. Estee said: "Gen. Harrison is sounder on the Chinese question than any Democrat they can point to. Let them examine the record and see whether his position does not commend itself to all who are sincere and honest and not disposed to use it as a pretext for blatant demagoguery. I know, absolutely know, beyond all doubt, that Gen. Harrison is right on the Chinese question."

"Gen. Harrison will carry Indiana by 15,000 majority," Mr. Estee said in reply to a question. "The labor vote can only be cast in favor of Harrison, if the laborers of the country appreciate their own interests and desire to vote for what is of the most vital importance to them, the principle of protection. I was fairly astonished by the unanimity of sentiment in the Republican party in the East. In New York and Pennsylvania all the old factions have buried their enmities and fallen into line on that issue. Yes, it is a contest of the American people with the free-trade sentiments of the solid South, and the importers of New York city, backed by England. That is what the issue means in this campaign, and the people fully understand it."

The reception of the California delegation in the East he described as most gratifying. "Not only in Chicago, but in every place we visited, a most cordial reception was accorded us."
Regarding the criticism of the delegation for its open and persistent advocacy of Blaine, he said: "I do not understand why this should be. What else could the California delegation do but support Blaine from the start. California, it was known, was for Blaine, and we were all Blaine men. We could not have begun to vote for Alger or Gresham, and then with honor abandoned them if Blaine's name should be placed before the convention. I am sure Blaine's candidacy suffered nothing by the action of the California delegation."

"I cannot say if Mr. Blaine will visit California. Whether he comes or not," continued Mr. Estee, "Gen. Harrison will receive the Republican vote on the Pacific Coast, as he will all over the country. His position on the vital questions of protection on the Pacific Coast will be set before the people so clearly that no one can conscientiously oppose him. He will, I am confident, demonstrate that the California delegation was right when it considered him—the strongest candidate that could be nominated. He has gained strength from the start, and will continue to do so, or there is no reluctance to be placed on what the most thoughtful and intelligent men throughout the country say. Yes, he will get every vote of his party, and in addition the support of great numbers of leading Democrats, who will vote conscientiously for a candidate who champions the principle of protection to American industry, American manhood, independence and prosperity. Gen. Harrison will be the next President of the United States. I am not as enthusiastic as some of my Ohio, Indiana and New York friends, who think Gen. Harrison can carry North Carolina, Virginia and West Virginia, but I am certain he will obtain enough electoral votes to be the next occupant of the White House."

POLITICAL NOTES.

Prohibitionists at Chicago Have a Big Ratification.
CHICAGO, July 13.—[By the Associated Press.] There was a large attendance at the Prohibition ratification meeting tonight. The platform was occupied by many leading Prohibitionists. Prof. Samuel Dickey of Michigan was the presiding officer. Dr. John A. Brooks, Vice-Presidential candidate, was the first speaker. His remarks were devoted mainly to an onslaught on both of the leading parties. He was followed by Miss Frances E. Willard.

Gen. Clinton B. Fisk, candidate for President, was then introduced. His reception was an ovation. When order had been restored, he went over about the same ground as that by Dr. Brooks, but with a little less radical in his views. Speeches were also made by several nominees on the State ticket.

A TARIFFER'S ADVICE.
WILMINGTON (N. C.), July 13.—Hon. D. L. Russell, who was a delegate to the Chicago Convention, and who was nominated for the head of the State judicial ticket, has written a letter to the Republican State Committee in which he declines the nomination and advises the withdrawal of his entire State ticket. Taking the election statistics for the last 16 years he argues that the Republicans have no showing, and contends that by withdrawing their State ticket they might break the color line and thus gain in the Congressional districts on the electoral ticket and Legislature.

WANT STANFORD.
SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—The public statement is made here that the Executive Committee of the American party favors the nomination of Senator Stanford for the Presidential candidate of the party, and Mayor Low of Brooklyn for second place on the ticket.
